Deafness is caused by an infamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is infamed you have a rambling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and onless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

On this account, we should turn to other sources to supply the increasing demands for creosote preservatives. A great help may be eventually afforded by the increasing use of wood tar creosote which has not been in high favor in the past. It is gratifying to note that within the last few years some of the more important wood disillers have been turning into a profit those oils and tars which were former-ly run to waste. The demand for these products is increasing, and this recov exed by-product has been asserted to be not only a revenue for the producer but also a valuable preservative for the treatment of structural timber.
